

Posted: April 21, 2015

Loyola performs at Belleville event

The English as a Second Language (ESL) students from Loyola School of Adult and Continuing Education performed songs at the Canadian Coalition of Municipalities Against Racism and Discrimination. Sponsored by the United Nations Association in Canada, the program included remarks from politicians and Belleville Police Chief and a presentation by Tour for Humanity. Loyola faculty member Michelle Rosebush had the opportunity to address the audience about Loyola and its programs, and faculty member Michelle Dean led the Loyola group in song.