

Posted: April 27, 2015

Protecting the earth today for our tomorrow

St. Patrick Catholic School in Kingston is celebrating "Earth Month" in April. The students learned about the importance of butterflies and moths and how to protect them. Each staff and student painted their own butterfly. The Art Installation can be seen along the street in front of the school.