

Posted: March 12, 2015

Regi Senior Concert Band to Perform in England

The Senior Band at Regiopolis-Notre Dame Catholic High School will again represent their school community on the International stage. In recent years the band has had the privilege of performing in music festivals at Orchestra Hall in Chicago and Carnegie Hall in New York.

This month, 61 students from the band will be travelling to London, England to perform in the Heritage International Music Festival at Cadogan Hall, home of the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra. This will be the first musical ensemble from Regi to perform overseas. They will be performing three major works for concert band: Persis by James Hosay, Lux Aurumque by Eric Whitacre and the march British Eighth by Zo Elliot. The works are as challenging as they are varied.